The Kumision i Fino' CHamoru Launches Latest Chamoru Orthography

A standard way of linking the Atfabeton CHamoru to the sounds of our indigenous language

I Kumisión i Fino' CHamoru yan i Fina'ná'guen i Historia yan i Lína'la' i Tåotao Tåno' (Kumísion) announces the launch of its latest revision of the the 1983 CHamoru Orthography.

With the enactment of P.L. 33-236 re-establishing I Kumisión came the responsibility to refine a standard way of linking the atfabeton CHamoru to the sounds of our indigenous language.

The Kumisión members adopted changes to the 1983 CHamoru orthography and present an updated version of the booklet, which provides a more standardized approach to writing CHamoru.

“Agreeing on a shared way to use our Atfabeton CHamoru in writing is necessary in building proficiency and therefore, building stability into CHamoru as the mother tongue of our people of the Mariana Islands,” said Kumisión Chairwoman Hope Cristobal. “This booklet provides guidance in order that we do just that - communicate in a more standard way in CHamoru,” stated Cristobal.

The Kumisión acknowledges that there may be dialectical, generational, island specific and personal preference in careful consideration of its movement forward. The Kumisión believes the orthographic rules and use of the atfabeton CHamoru must also conform to the broader norms of language systems in society.

“The release of this updated orthography is timely in this revitalization period as we may have ten years or less to revive our language, considering the age of proficient CHamoru Speakers whom we have left among us,” said Kumisión Administrator AnnaMarie Arceo. “This orthography will be a guiding document for all CHamoru language teachers who play lead roles in this revitalization effort,” said Arceo.

The Orthography Booklet is around 40 pages long, consisting of the Chamoru Language's Symbols and Abbreviations, 17 Orthographic Rules, and Glossary. Hardcopies will be distributed to the CHamoru Language Teachers. The Orthography will also be available for download on the Kumision's website (kumisionchamoru.guam.gov).

The media is invited to attend the press conference at 11 a.m. on Thursday, January 21, 2021 via zoom video conference to learn more about the CHamoru Orthography.

For more information and registration details, contact Kumision Administrator AnnaMarie B. Arceo at 482-4630 or AnnaMarie.Arceo@kfchamoru.guam.gov
NWS Advisories in Effect; Practice Caution in Hazardous Weather

A small craft advisory remains in effect for coastal waters of Guam, Rota, Tinian, and Saipan until Friday afternoon. East winds 15 to 25 knots with gusts up to 30 knots, with combined seas of 8 to 10 feet are expected.

A small craft advisory means that wind speeds of 21 to 33 knots are expected to produce wave conditions hazardous to small craft. Inexperienced swimmers, especially those operating smaller vessels should avoid sailing in these conditions.

A high rip current risk remains in effect for Guam, Rota, Tinian, and Saipan on east facing reefs of the Mariana Islands until Sunday evening. Rip currents can sweep even the best swimmers away from shore into deeper water. Swim near a lifeguard. If caught in a rip current, relax and float. Don’t swim against the current. If able, swim in a direction following the shoreline. If unable to escape, face the shore and call or wave for help.

Residents and visitors are advised to take the following precautionary actions:

- If driving, be alert for low visibilities and slippery roads in heavy rain;
- Slow down where water is ponding on the road;
- Turn Around, Don’t Drown. Avoid walking or driving through flood waters. Just 6 inches of moving water can knock you down, and 2 feet of water can sweep your vehicle away;
- Avoid camping, parking, or hiking along streams, rivers, and creeks during heavy rainfall. These areas can flood quickly and with little warning;
- Visit https://www.ready.gov/floods to learn more.

The Offices of Guam Homeland Security and Civil Defense (GHS/OCD) remind the community to practice extreme caution while traveling in rainy conditions, driving below the speed limit and allowing enough braking distance between vehicles.

SOUTH KOREA
KOREA COVID-19 NEWS

HIGHLIGHT

- South Korea's daily new coronavirus cases rose by the smallest number in nearly two months on January 18 and the daily figure has been showing signs of a slowdown with tightened social distancing measures.

- The daily figure has been staying in the 500 for the past six days.

- However, it is too early to lower the social distancing level, even though the third wave of the pandemic has clearly entered a slowdown.

SOUTH KOREA EXTENDS SPECIAL TRAVEL ADVISORY

- The South Korea foreign ministry extended the special advisory on January 15, recommending against traveling overseas, as the coronavirus pandemic is continuing.

- The advisory, now effective until February 15, 2021, calls for South Koreans to cancel their trips and for those staying outside of the country to take extra precautions. The measure was first imposed in March 2020.

TAIWAN
Anyone traveling to the U.S. on an international flight, including from Taiwan, will have to present a negative coronavirus test issued within three days of their departure, starting Jan. 26.

On Tuesday (Jan. 12), the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) issued an order requiring all air travelers entering the U.S. to show a negative test result or documentation of recovery prior to their trip. Passengers who fail to provide such proof will not be allowed to board their flight.

The CDC said the measure was based on concerns about a more transmissible coronavirus variant that was first detected in the U.K. It added that the new policy will hopefully help slow the spread of coronavirus on planes, in airports, and at domestic destinations.

Japan has now decided to bar visits by business people and students from 11 Asian countries, including Taiwan, reports said Wednesday (Jan 13).

The ban had been expected to be introduced on Jan 7, when Prime Minister Suga Yoshihide declared an emergency for the Tokyo region, but he did not mention such a measure. On Nov 1, Japan stopped foreign travelers from entering the country, unless they were business people or students from Taiwan, Australia, New Zealand, Singapore, South Korea, Thailand, Vietnam, Brunei, China, Hong Kong, and Macau.

Short-term business travelers eligible for shortened quarantine periods in Taiwan, except for those who have obtained permission for their application, are now required to complete the 14-day home quarantine.
