WEEKLY GUAM

Steak Restaurant, Delmonico. Long-awaited re-opening!

Guam is bustling with activity as tourists have returned after the pandemic. Stores and facilities that were closed have reopened. Among them, is Delmonico Kitchen & Bar, which reopened in November 2023.

Delmonico is about a 10 minute walk from the center of Tumon and is located on the first floor of Bayview Hotel Guam. Delmonico is known to be a popular casual dining place where you can enjoy your meal.

The name Delmonico refers to the type of steak (generally a thick-cut rib-eye steak). The Delmonico is also a signature menu item, and does not disappoint. Diners can select two sauces among: 1. Creaming Horse Radish; 2. Dinanche'; 3. Peppercorn Sauce; 4. Fina' denne'; 5. Smokey Barbecue; and others.

After a long closure, the newly renovated restaurant and its new menu are sure to meet everyone's expectations.

9 countries with inexpensive international travel! Introducing the most cost-effective and recommended travel destinations.

Many people may think that international travel is expensive, but there are some low-cost international destinations that can be traveled to.

This article introduces nine inexpensive international travel destinations. In selecting the overseas travel destinations for this article, the following criteria was used:

- Tours under 100,000 yen at HIS (as of November 25, 2023)
- Short flight time
- Direct flights from Narita Airport

Guam is an American resort that is very popular among Japanese travelers. It is only about 3.5 hours from Japan, and the time difference is only one hour, which makes it an extremely popular destination for families with small children.

Guam tours are available from 79,800 yen. Compared to Hawaii, the cost of living in Guam is about half. Furthermore, because Guam is a free trade port, there is no local consumption tax. Therefore, the cost of staying in Guam can be reduced.

Since there is no sales tax this tropical resort is also a great place for shopping.

KEELUNG, YOKOHAMA TO COOPERATE ON CUSTOMS

Taiwan and Japan signed a memorandum of understanding to promote cooperation on issues between the customs offices of the Port of Keelung and Yokohama. Taiwan-Japan Relations Association Chairman Su Jia-chyuan and Japan-Taiwan Exchange Association Chairman Mitsuo Ohashi signed the nonbinding agreement on behalf of their governments at the 47th annual Taiwan-Japan Economic and Trade Conference in Taipei. The government-funded associations are charged with handling Taiwanese affairs in Japan and Japanese affairs in Taiwan respectively in the absence of official diplomatic relations.

Keelung Customs Office head Chen Shi-feng said that the memorandum would facilitate cooperation between the two sides and streamline customs clearance processes. The countries also agreed to cooperate on combating trafficking and smuggling, sharing intelligence and addressing tariff issues, Chen said.

Speaking at the opening of the conference, Su said that Taiwan and Japan have made great strides on bilateral economic and trade cooperation in the past few years. He reiterated the government's call in asking Japan to support Taiwan's bid to gain accession to the Tokyo-led Comprehensive and Progressive Agreement for Trans-Pacific Partnership.

Meanwhile, Ohashi said he was happy to see the annual conference return to Taipei for the first time in five years. The last time the meeting was held in Taipei was in 2018. It was held in Tokyo last year after not being organized from 2020 to 2021 due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

He praised bilateral trade relations as "thriving" over the past few years, with two-way trade volume reaching a historical high of US$88.2 billion last year. Ohashi said he hopes that the annual meeting, which has been held since 1976 and serves as an important communications platform, would continue to make contributions to the economic and trade ties between Tokyo and Taipei.

JAPAN SUPPORTIVE OF TAIWAN'S ASCENSION IN CPTPP

Japan is eager to welcome Taiwan into the Comprehensive and Progressive Agreement for Trans-Pacific Partnership (CPTPP), newly appointed Japanese representative to Taiwan, Katayama Kazuyuki said on Thursday (Dec. 14). Speaking at a reception, Katayama said Taiwan is an important economic partner for Japan, especially given its semiconductor industry's critical role in the global supply chain, per CNA. He emphasized that Taiwan's significance has prompted Japan to be supportive of Taiwan's ascension in the CPTPP, affirming the commitment to continuous collaborative efforts.

Concerning his mission in Taiwan, Katayama said it was important to encourage young Japanese to learn more about Taiwan, enhance bilateral exchanges, ensure the safety of Japanese tourists and businesses in Taiwan, as well as deepen Japan's understanding of Taiwanese society and culture. The representative praised Taiwan's progress in democracy and stressed that peace and stability in the Taiwan Strait are indispensable for the international community.

In a meeting with President Tsai Ing-wen on Wednesday (Dec. 13), Katayama said Taiwan and Japan are important partners who share the common values of freedom, democracy, and the rule of law. He added that the two countries have developed very friendly relations in the process of addressing natural disasters and the COVID-19 pandemic, creating a "virtuous cycle."

NEAR 60,000 DAILY ARRIVALS IN PH AS HOLIDAYS APPROACH

MANILA, Philippines - Daily nationwide arrivals nearly reached 60,000 in the days leading up to Christmas, the Bureau of Immigration reported on Sunday. This figure marks an increase from the 51,000 arrivals at the country's international airports recorded at the beginning of December.

“On December 1, the Bureau of Immigration recorded 51,390 arrivals at all international airports in the country. The figure rose to 59,541 on December 22 and 58,993 on December 23,” the bureau said in a press release.

More than 85 percent of these passengers arrived through the Ninoy Aquino International Airport. The Bureau of Immigration also noted the 31,408 departures from the country on December 23, compared to 25,759 on December 1.

Immigration Chief Norman Tansingco advised arriving Filipinos to use e-gates for faster immigration processing and reminded passengers to register at etravel.gov.ph at least 72 hours before entering or leaving the country.

PH, US DISCUSS 'ROBUST' ALLIANCE AS TENSIONS RISE WITH CHINA

MANILA, Philippines - The Philippines and the United States (US) reaffirmed both countries' "robust... alliance and bilateral relations" amid ongoing tensions with China.

On Thursday, Foreign Affairs Secretary Enrique Manalo told US Secretary of State Antony Blinken the Philippines' "abiding interest to protect its sovereignty, sovereign rights and jurisdiction, while maintaining peace and security and upholding the rules-based international order."

"Secretary Manalo emphasized the importance of dialogue and maintaining open lines of communication with other parties in pursuit of these objectives," the Department of Foreign Affairs said in a statement.

US State Department Spokesperson Matthew Miller said that the discussion covered issues of mutual concern, including the tensions at the South China Sea.

SENATOR PARKINSON PROPOSES BILL TO SUPPORT PHILIPPINES

HAGÅTÑA, Guam - As tensions continue to rise between the Philippines and China over control of highly strategic disputed islands in the West Philippine sea, Senator Will Parkinson introduced a resolution offering Guam's support to the Manila government's claims of sovereignty. In support of the measure was Philippine Consul General for Guam Rosario Lemque.

According to Lemque, China shot water cannons at Philippine vessels in the latest round of provocative intimidation. But the Philippines will continue to assert its long-held claim over the territory.

The long disputed islands are in a highly strategic location, as historically China has sought to push its border further into the western Pacific, bringing it even closer to our region.

Resolution sponsor Senator Will Parkinson says there's a need to support longtime U.S. ally, the Philippines. He stated, "I hope we never see armed conflict in the Pacific, and that's why I think it's important to stand up for our friends and allies and to do the right thing in the time that it needs to be done. And that time is now."

In 2016, an international arbitrator ruled in favor of the Philippines sovereignty, and invalidated Beijing's claim of the "nine-dash line" border which covers nearly the entire South China Sea.

CLOUDY YEAR AHEAD FOR AIRLINES

MANILA, Philippines – As the global demand for air travel surges, airline carriers in the Philippines are more cautious than ever. Philippine Airlines (PAL) president and chief operating officer Stanley Ng believes that there are as many risks as there are opportunities for 2024. He discussed that the brewing tensions in Gaza and Ukraine may possibly become the biggest threat towards regaining pre-pandemic stability due to the prices of jet fuel's constant fluctuation. As of December 8, the International Air Transport Association showed that jet fuel in Asia and Oceania averaged $102.87 per barrel.

Cebu Pacific chief finance officer Mark Julius Cezar expects prices of jet fuel to stay above $100 per barrel in 2024. Cezar also worries that the peso might depreciate to 56 PHP to 1 USD. The Gokongwei-owned airline pays at least 60 percent of expenses in dollars, making it vulnerable to movements in foreign exchange.

The worst of all issues remains to be the recall of jet engines manufactured by Pratt & Whitney for Airbus A320neos, an aircraft that both PAL and Cebu Pacific own a number of. PAL expects to ground two aircrafts next year as a result of the recall. In response, Ng said that PAL will expand its fleet of jets powered by other engines to fill in the gap. For Cebu Pacific, it anticipates one in five aircrafts to be grounded to make way for the repair of their engines.

In spite of this, both PAL and Cebu Pacific are keen on expanding their fleet and routes in 2024. Whereas PAL is finalizing its spending guidance for next year, Cebu Pacific is increasing capital expenditures by nearly a fifth to P50 billion.
